

The Lura S. Tally Center for Leadership Development and the MU Journey Leadership Pathway present

Lou Huddleston
Army Colonel (ret.),
Leadership Consultant,
and Entrepreneur

“Value-Based Leadership”

Monday, Oct. 4, 11:00 - 11:45 a.m.
Huff Concert Hall

About the Speaker

Lou Huddleston is the president and CEO of Operations Services, Inc. (OSI), a management consulting firm he founded in 2010 in Fayetteville, N.C. OSI provides government organizations with professional services in areas such as leadership training, information technology, cyber security, systems analysis, logistics, and management.

Before launching OSI, he served 31 years in the U.S. Army in conventional and joint warfighting commands, retiring as a colonel. Huddleston has leveraged his experience as a senior leader, manager, and strategist to better serve his government and community.

METHODIST UNIVERSITY

FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT:

Dr. Andrew Ziegler
Director, Tally Leadership Center
aziegler@methodist.edu
910.630.7488