

CONJUNCTIONS

Coordinating Conjunctions

These words connect two things or ideas that have equal value in grammatical terms.

and    so    but    yet    nor    or    for (when it means because)

Conjunctive Adverbs

One of these words or phrases, used in front of an independent clause, does not create a subordinate or dependent clause.

actually	for instance	in the first place	secondly additionally	for this reason	in the second place	similarly also	furthermore	in the third place	subsequently as a result	however	likewise	then besides	in addition	moreover	therefore consequently	in fact	nevertheless	thus conversely	in short	on the other hand	... and more... for example	instead	otherwise

Subordinating Conjunctions

One of these words or phrases, used in front of an independent clause, does create a subordinate or dependent clause.

after	before	since	whenever although	even if	so that	where as	even though	than	whereas as if	how	that	whether as long as	if	unless	which as soon as	in order that	until	while as though	once	what	who because	provided that	when	... and more